MAINTENANCE

For daily cleaning, always follow the easiest ways: Use a damp cloth with a mild cream abrasive cleanser or a common (eg. Cif). Always act in a circular motion. STAINS FROM CHEMICALS: Accidental stains of chemicals such as paint removers, cleaning brushes, metal or ovens, products containing methylene chloride, acids, diluents of nail varnishes, products based on acetone, etc ... must be quickly removed with a 'plenty of soap and water to prevent damage to the surface! In particular to eliminate the stains of diluents of nail polish, use a product free of acetone and then rinse thoroughly with water. The uncontrolled or prolonged exposure to chemicals may damage the surface. BOILING WATER: It is recommended to always use a container to collect the boiling water that could cause damage to the surface of sinks. Otherwise might arise surface cracking or crazing. SCRATCHES:

Mattstone, like any other based resins material, appear with slight abrasion marks as a result of normal daily use. To delete a scratch, should you use a non-abrasive sponge, treat all the surface with circular movements.
